DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-17 in the reply filed on August 27, 2008 is acknowledged.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 11 is objected to because of the following informalities: Line 1 should end with a colon and line 5 should end with a comma. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kompanek ('448).

Fig. 5 of Kompanek discloses a cylindrical underwater acoustic projector having a longitudinal slot (46). The projector includes an outer shell (42) made of steel or aluminum, an insulative layer (48, see col. 6, line 23) and a driver (44).

The apparent difference between claims 1 and 11 and Kompanek lies in the claimed "metallic liner" located between the insulative layer and the outer shell. However, as broadly read, the shell (42) of Kompanek, which is made of steel or aluminum, would inherently provide structural reinforcement for the insulative layer and drivers and thus would read upon the shell and metallic liner of the instant claims.

There is no patentable distinction between what applicant claims as the metallic liner and outer shell and the shell (42) of Kompanek. Claims 1 and 11 are so rejected.

Dependent claims 2-6, 12 and 13 are further provided by the Kompanek patent.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 7-10 and 14-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
